BEROSKI JAMAL WHITEHEAD was born on June 21, 1972, to Frank and Yvonne Whitehead. He was fondly known as “Bobo,” but to his mother he was “Bo.”

Growing up, Bo was a very intelligent and even-tempered child who never gave his parents any problems. He was raised in a home with many siblings who he played, fought, and at times shared bunk beds with. He also shared good times and vacation getaways, such as camping and beach AirBnb's.

From the time of his birth, Bo was raised in a Christian home, where along with his siblings, he looked forward to district conventions in the summer, where he enjoyed fellowshiping with many of his friends and making new ones. Bo was a natural comedian who always kept his family laughing at his antics and he was also a prankster who would sometimes call his mother and appear to be speaking in a foreign tongue that he had down to a science. And after getting his mother good and irritated at who was calling her, he would break out in laughter, and his mother would say, “Oh, that’s Bo with one of his pranks.”

Bo graduated from Barbara Jordan High School for Careers and went on to work a number of jobs, the last being a clerk at a law office.

Bo eventually got married and became a father to two children whom he adored: Dustan Jamal, known as “DJ”, and Dillard Amel, known as “Dilly,” but to her father she was “Dill Pickle.”

Bo was well liked and had many friends because of his easy going and comical personality. One of Bo's favorite past times was watching sports and movies. Bo will be greatly missed by all who knew him, but especially his kids, mother, and siblings.

He was preceded in death by his father Frank T. Whitehead, and he leaves to mourn his passing his children, Dustan and Dillard; his mother, Yvonne; his brothers, Victor, Gary, Joey (Johanna), Kacey, Randall, Scott and Jordan; and sisters, Tina (Marvin), Tammy (Bennie), and Kelly.

He is also survived by nieces, nephews, aunts, uncles, cousins, and two loyal friends, Kela and OJ.

Tribute of Love

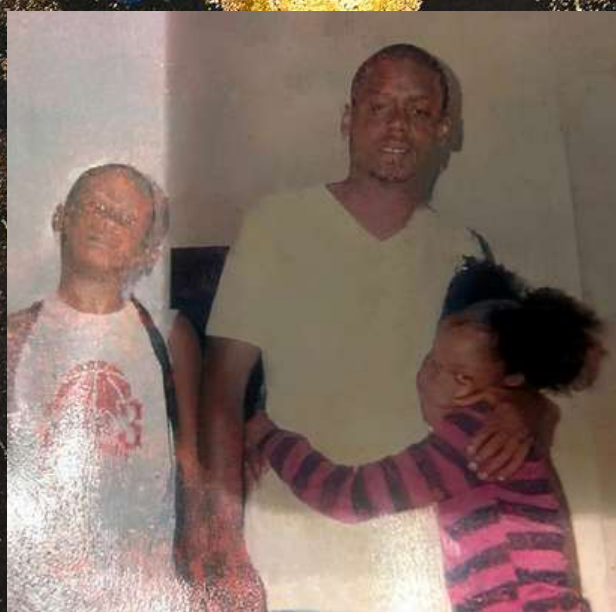

I love you Daddy, and I appreciate you always being there for me through all of my mistakes.

You are and will forever be my best teacher.

I'm so lost without you and I hate to think
I have to spend the rest of my life without you.

I will always be a Daddy's girl. I love you.

Love, Dillard
